Resources for Science and Engineering Practices (with Data)

Are you searching for resources to use with your students related to Science and Engineering Practices? Review these graphics that will help to hone students' attention to the specific practices in science and how they relate to investigating, sense-making, and critiquing of data.

Visit the links provided to access the Science and Engineering Practice graphics wheel, as well as the independent practices pie slices.
Planning & carrying out investigations using data

Asking questions about data

Using math & computational thinking with data
Document Resources

- science and engineering practices with data